

Contract for Profit Sharing Agreement

Ishvdeep Singh (hereinafter referred to as “DEVELOPER”), doing business as SunnyChopper (hereinafter referred to as “company”) for the production, distribution, and marketing of digital assets for Billion Dollars Motivation (hereinafter referred to as “brand”).

The digital assets will be created to get more leads and customers. The company will store all source code locally and within Github’s cloud servers. The source code will be public, however, with request from the brand, the source code can be switched to private.

The company will also provide marketing services to the brand. The company will assist in activities such as creating content, designing sales funnels, creating lead magnet content, and analytics.

The company and the brand have agreed to profit sharing. The following are the percentages of how profit will be distributed:

- The company’s percentage: 30%
- The brand’s percentage: 70%

Profits shall be distributed after payment processor fees have been deducted from the revenue amount. Each party is responsible for keeping track of their income for tax purposes.
